OFFICIALS SIGN CONTRACT FOR LIGHTS

STREET LIGHTING FOR COMING YEAR WILL COST SAME PRICE
AS LAST; BIG OIL COMPANY TO BUILD STATION SOON.

In spite of the constantly raising prices of all the necessities of life, South San Francisco will obtain its electric current for street lighting for the next year at the same price paid last year. The contract between the city and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company was read and approved at the meeting of the board of trustees Monday night. The contract price is for $2.15 a month for 100 candle-power lights, $3.15 for 250 candle-power lights, and $4.15 for lights of 400 candle-power. The company is to furnish, install, and maintain all lights.

Another matter of more than ordinary interest that came up at the meeting is that the Union Oil Company is planning to build a distributing station at the turn of the San Bruno road south of this city and just across the street from the Friesley Aircraft Corporation's hangars. The oil company first intimated it would build here about two years ago, but at that time no further steps were taken than the securing of the land. It is believed now that the company expects to build in the near future. Its representatives have intimated they would apply for a building permit shortly, and City Clerk Smith was instructed to grant this permit when application was made.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company made application for permission to erect poles on Orange avenue, which was granted.

A request was received from the

SO. S. F. TEAMS WIN TWO GAMES OF BALL

South San Francisco basket-ball teams brought home the bacon at two games played at the high school gymnasium Thursday night. The first game, played between the boys' team of the local high school and a team from Burlingame, resulted in a score of 51 to 7 in favor of the local boys. The second game was between the Y. M. C. A. team and the team of the Redwood City Athletic Club. This was a fast, exciting game from start to finish and very hotly contested. The "Y" team won by the close score of 31 to 30. This is the third game between these teams, both other games resulting in victories for the Redwood players.

Last Friday night the Y. M. C. A. also won a game, the contest being with the Cogswell high school team from San Francisco. The score was 55 to 18.

The evening of March 4th there will be a double-header between the Y. M. C. A. team and a men's team from the Emporium of San Francisco and the Atlanta team of this city and a girls' team from the Emporium.

Physical Director Glenn L. Williams of the local Y. M. C. A. played with a team made up of "Y" physical directors of San Francisco Tuesday night. The game was with a team of "Y" directors of Oakland and resulted in a victory for the San Francisco men, the score being 38 to 27.

SHIPYARD WORKERS MIX WITH OFFICERS

Attempt to Arrest Man Who Annoys Train Crew Precipitates an Incipient Riot.

A mixup between shipyard workers and railroad police, which promised for a short time to assume serious proportions, took place near the main gate of the Schaw-Batcher shipyard Monday evening as the men were coming from the plant. It resulted in the arrest of five of the ringleaders for disturbing the peace when the work train reached the Third and Townsend streets S. P. depot. These men were given a hearing the next day in the police court of San Francisco, and all but one were liberated.

The trouble started Monday morning when the men were on the train coming from the city to the shipyard to work. They have annoyed the train crew several times of late by pulling the bell cord connected with the engine. Monday a brakeman saw one of the workers pull the cord and

JOHNSON FORCE IN RENEWED ACTIVITY

THOSE BOOSTING CALIFORNIA'S SENATOR FOR PRESIDENCY GET

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE NAMED.

By the appointment of the executive committee of the Hiram Johnson for President Club of San Mateo county, completion is made of the county organization today. In making the appointments, Judge E. E. Cunningham of South San Francisco, president of the local club, has chosen women as well as men for the executive commit-

METHODISTS TO BUILD BEAUTIFUL NEW CHURCH

New Structure to Cost About $25,000 Will Stand at Corner of Civic Center Near City Hall.

South San Francisco is to have another fine new building in the near future. This announcement was made this week by St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church of this city. The structure will be erected on the lot upon which the present church building stands at the northwest corner of Grand and Maple avenues. The building is to cost in the neighborhood of $25,000, according to tentative plans discussed between the church officials and architects. The lot is part of the block embodying the civic center, and the fine new church building will be a splendid addition to the group of public and semi-public buildings centering about this locality. The plans of the church officials are still in the formative stage, but a colonial style is being considered to be in harmony with the beautiful new city hall struc-

BOLD ROBBERS PILLAGE AT REDWOOD

THIEVES STEAL THEATER SAFE, CARRYING IT OFF ON STOLEN TRUCK; STORE RAIDED FOR SECOND TIME THREE MONTHS.

Thieves operating in Redwood City committed three daring robberies within the last week, and the residents of the county seat are much aroused as a consequence. One of the robberies, that of the Sequoia Theater, was one of the most daring ever committed in the county, the thieves entering the theater and carrying off bodily a safe containing nearly $400. The safe was carried away on a truck stolen from the San Carlos Creamery, which is just across the street from the theater. The two robberies occurred Sunday night. Monday morning the truck was found abandoned near the municipal bathhouse. A search of the surrounding territory disclosed the safe later. It had been broken open and its contents taken.

The third robbery occurred at the clothing store of Horace B. Gardiner early last Friday morning. The store was rifled of seven suits of clothing and an assortment of shirts, ties, gloves, and hosiery, the total value of which is estimated at $600. This is the second time this store has been robbed, the other occasion being in December.

The police commission meeting Monday night appointed an extra night watchman for the business district.

WILLIAMS-CASTRO NUPTIALS IN THIS CITY

Hubert John Williams, aged 18 years, and Florence Millicent Castro, aged 16, both of this city, were married at All Souls' Church Tuesday afternoon, Father Moran performing the ceremony. The bride and groom were attended by Fred Lewis and Miss Emily Gardner. Mr. Williams is an employee at the steel mill. The young couple will make their home in this city.

LOCAL POST PLANS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The local post of the American Legion, now known as Bernard McCaffery Post, is planning a special drive for new members. The members of the local organization feel that many ex-service men do not realize the benefits to be derived from membership in the legion, and an educational campaign is to be started. It is estimated there are some 200 ex-service men in this city and its environs, and it is the opinion of those belonging to the legion that every man should be a member.

The drive for new members is to take the form of a contest, a handsome trophy being offered for the member bringing in the most new men. The post meets every Friday night at the city hall, and all members are urged to attend Friday night of this week, as matters of especial importance are to be discussed.

The members of McCaffery Post are also planning a big St. Patrick's ball, to be given the night of March 17th. This will be the local post's second grand ball, and plans are being made to entertain a big crowd. Machado's orchestra will furnish the music, Mr. Machado being a member of the post.

OFFICIALS SIGN CONTRACT.

Schaw-Batcher Company for the city officials to deputize William Smith as a police officer for the shipyard. The request was complied with.

A. Giorgi made application for a permit to construct a concrete building, to cost between $2000 and $3000, on Baden avenue. The clerk was instructed to issue the permit.

Members of the board expressed a desire to learn whether the offer of this city to convey to the county of San Mateo its title to one-half Mission road between this city's north and south boundaries at this point had ever been accepted. This city made this offer to the county some time ago, but nothing further has been heard regarding the matter and the city clerk was instructed to communicate with the county clerk and learn whether the county had accepted the proposition.

A number of bills for current expenses were presented and approved.

reported him to the officers. When the man emerged from the yard at night an officer was waiting at the gate to arrest him. The man started to run across the field and the officer fired twice in the air to stop him. Stories told by the officers and by the workmen as to what happened next differ, but it would appear that the crowd closed around the officer and in the resulting struggle the policeman lost his gun. The arrival of other officers ended the melee. The man who started the trouble was not apprehended.

ture to be built on the same block only a few rods away.

The group of buildings of which the church will form an important unit include the new city hall, the public library, Fraternal Hall, just across the street, the beautiful Catholic church, one of the most imposing structures in San Mateo county, and the fine new high school building.

The new Methodist church when completed will be one of the finest church buildings in the county.

"PACKINGTOWN" NOTES

The Western Meat Company opened its doors for actual operations twenty-seven years ago December 5, 1919.

Of the men who started to work at the plant on that date or very soon afterward, there are some who have been continuously on the job since; some outside of the plant but connected with other interests of the concern, while others are in business in South San Francisco or close by.

It is our intention to give a brief history of one of those pioneers of industrial life each week, thus keeping the events of the past linked to the present, that the progress of our industrial and civic development may be visualized to the younger and rising generation of our community.

The first in this list is Howard Werner, who arrived here August 4, 1892, a youth of 14 years. Mr. Werner was born in the year 1878 in Ohio. He was a next door neighbor of President McKinley, who was then governor of the state, and a classmate of his daughter, Miss Mabel McKinley. When Howard arrived in South San Francisco, or Baden as this place was then called, his eye greeted a dreary landscape, and a sojourn here of over twenty-seven years was far beyond his youthful imagination.

He spent his first night in a tent erected on the present site of the Kauffmann residence and express office, and the only other habitation in view was the residence of Richard Harder. Howard kept moving his tent from place to place to escape the prevailing winds of that time of year, which he states were much worse in those days than now, owing to lack of shelter, and in that manner kept himself protected from the weather until an additional wood and shingle structure came into existence.

Meanwhile the infant industry of the Western Meat Company was about to be launched. December 5, 1892, was the date of the opening, and Howard presented himself for a job. When the older men were assigned to their respective places, R. K. Patchell, the first superintendent, cast his eye on the diminutive Werner, and, after learning that he had traveled a long distance to try his luck in the west, put him in charge of the ferry "slip."

As all stock slaughtered at the plant in those days had to be brought in by boat, Howard Werner acted as the faithful lighthouse keeper, oiling and operating the signal lamps that were mounted on towers at the entrance to the slip. After a few months he was transferred into the plant, and from that time until now has held various positions of trust in several departments.

He is at the present time foreman of the box factory and has no regrets that he cast his fortunes in South San Francisco at such an early date and age. He was married thirteen years ago to Miss Edna Wilson of Redwood City and has three children, two boys and a girl.

Mr. Woodworth of the butterline department is home for a few days suffering from a severe cold.

Fred Manning of the mechanical department has taken a short leave of absence and gone on a trip to Oregon.

Superintendent J. O. Snyder spent the fore part of the week visiting the Reno plant.

Arrangements are being made for the next boxing carnival to be put on by the Welfare Club. Manager J. H. Kelley has not yet lost faith in his white hopes.

timekeeper, is recovering from his recent illness and will not be able to resume his duties for a little while.

"Snooky" Thomas, Jack Attridge, and Frank Blake have the reputation of having the largest appetites at the plant. Ask our chef, Mr. White. He knows.

Like other great men, the editor of "Packingtown Notes" in innately modest, and for this reason he failed to take the opportunity of saying a few words about himself. Pat can appreciate the Tuxedo advertisement, "His Nose Knows," for he has recently been carrying distinctive marks on this prominent part of his anatomy, caused, no doubt, as Pat says, by a stick of wood failing to follow the law of gravity. Pat says the blow was making for his "eye," but that he avoided getting one of his lights put out by a dexterous "duck," which art he acquired in the army.

It is unnecessary in this connection to comment on the state being dry, or the tendency of those who get "forbidden juice" to present a plausible alibi, and not having proof that this decoration was administered by an enemy we will take his statement as fact without any suspicion or reflection as to its truth.

CANDIDATES MAKING THEIR ANNOUNCEMENTS

A number of candidates for city offices make their announcements in today's issue of The Enterprise. All are men well known in this city, two being at present city officials seeking re-election. G. W. Holston, who announces his candidacy for re-election as city trustee, is at present chairman of the board of councilmen. City Clerk W. J. Smith, who made the formal announcement of his candidacy last week, has eleven years of efficient service as clerk on which to found his claims for re-election. Only one opponent for the clerk's office has come out up to the present time, he being Daniel McSweeney, former city trustee and former postmaster. Another candidate for city trustee declaring himself today is Henry Knott, well-known property owner of South San Francisco. An announcement of more than ordinary interest is that of B. H. Truax that he will be a candidate for election to the office of school trustee. Mr. Truax is too well known in this city to need any introduction, having been in business here many years. The member of the school trustees whose term expires this year is City Marshal C. C. Conrad. Mr. Conrad has not yet announced whether he will be a candidate for re-election. If he does decide to run again there is probably no man in South San Francisco who would give him a harder contest than B. H. Truax.

Great encouragement is felt that, as a result of the clean teeth campaign, many homes have been induced to install a family toothbrush.

Where Washington Sleeps

By T.C. Harbaugh

Where the lordly Potomac thro' vistas of beauty
Sweeps with a song to the faraway sea,
America's chieftain, the hero of duty,
WASHINGTON, rests in the shade of the tree;
His fame is still bright, tho' the cycles have vanished,
His valor is written in Liberty's tome;
His name is immortal and ne'er can be banished—
Forevermore cherished in heart and in home.

He sleeps 'mid the scenes that he loved in his childhood,
Spring covers the ground with her blossoms so fair,
He dreams where he play'd as a boy in the wildwood,
As free as the eagle from sorrow and care;
Let Trenton and Princeton weave chaplets eternal,
And Brandywine sing of his unclouded fame;
He rose to the height of a patriot supernal,
And Yorktown adds splendor to WASHINGTON'S name.

The stars shed their light where he camps in his glory,
Adored everywhere where his actions are told,
And millions to come will rejoice when the story
Is lisp'd of our wonderful struggle of old;
Whole-soul'd and great hearted he rode to the battle, Right's paladin, armed in a cause that was just;
Undaunted he stood 'mid the roar and the rattle,
Forever beloved, tho' his body is dust.

Mount Vernon will guard the great soldier forever,
America's Mecca and Liberty's shrine,
And free men will flock to his tomb by the river,
And kneel in the sunburst of glory divine;
And brighter each day grows the name that we cherish,
As the first in our hearts it will ever find room,
Fame's carved it on high so it never can perish,
And Love lays her wreath upon WASHINGTON'S tomb.

Sleep, Champion of Freedom, beside the loved river,
Thy requiem 'twill sing to the ending of Time;
Thy soul's in the care of Our Father, its giver,
Thy glory as lasting as Liberty's clime;
The morn as it bursts in its beauty discloses
The Banner that floats where thy slumber is deep,
Thy sword we will laurel with summertime's roses,
Beloved by the Nation, sleep, WASHINGTON, sleep.

ARAB ROBBERS HAVE GHOULISH TENDENCIES

Bandit tribes of Arabs would rather rob the dead than the living, declares Major G. K. Weston, who has just returned from a year's service in Armenia. Prior to the armistice he was eighteen months on the western front.

The major, who is in California, auditing accounts of the Near East Relief, cites many weird instances of graveyard thievery.

"Dead soldiers were stripped of clothing, gold extracted from their teeth and their bodies burned," he says. "Finally the British army was compelled to take measures to protect the dead."

"Bombs were placed in cemeteries. After a number of the marauders had been killed by explosions this form of plundering became less popular and is not very common today."

Thought and Speech.

"Do you believe that speech was given man to conceal his thoughts?" "I do, for I've noticed that, as a rule, the talkative man never reveals any thoughts."

Site of the White House.

The site for the president's palace,
as the first maps name it, was selected by President Washington and Major L'Enfant when they laid out the federal city in 1792. They purposed to have the president's house and the capitol reciprocally close to the long vista formed by Pennsylvania avenue, and they also laid out a parklike connection between the two great buildings.
The plans for the house, selected by Washington and Jefferson as the result of a competition in which L'Enfant took part, were drawn by James Hoban, a native of Dublin.

PAID TRIBUTE TO GREAT MAN

IT WAS on September 19, 1796, that Washington issued his farewell address to the American people. As Washington's second term drew to a close the public once more turned to him with confidence and affection and would have had him take the presidency a third time, to keep the government steady in its new ways. But he would not have the hard office again. Then he issued his final address, which, he said, was "designed in a more special manner for the yeomanry of the country," and spoke the advice he hoped they might take to heart.

When the day came on which he should resign his office to John Adams, the great civilian who was to succeed him, there was a scene which left no one in doubt, not even Washington himself, what the people thought of the leader they had trusted these twenty years. A great crowd was assembled to see the second inauguration, but very few of the throng watched Adams. All eyes were bent upon that great figure in black velvet, with a light sword swung at his side.
No one stirred until he had left the room, to follow and pay his respects to the new president.

Then they and all the crowd in the streets moved after him, an immense company going as one man, "in total silence," his escort all the way. He turned upon the threshold of the president's lodgings and looked, as if for the last time, upon this multitude of nameless friends. No one ever saw him so moved. The tears rolled unchecked down his cheek, and when at last he went within a great smothered common voice went through the stirred throng, as if they sobbed to see their hero go from their side forever.

COLD STORAGE PIRATES.

Every thinking person knows that cold storage warehouses are a modern necessity in order to insure a proper distribution of food and prevent enormous wastage from decay. But well-informed people also know that such is not the principal use to which they are now being placed. They are the means by which food pirates rob and plunder the people. Stores are cornered on the market, hid away in the cold storage warehouses, and allowed to remain there until a fictitious price has been created by an apparent shortage. Then they are dribbled out and enormous profits are made therefrom.

Things run along smoothly for the pirate in this manner, until some enterprising newspaper noses out the facts and begins to stir up the natives. Then some public official comes to life, lets out a few terrifying roars at nothing, and goes home and takes a stiff drink—if he can find it. He has performed his sacred duty to the goats who elected him. He roared, and a roar makes a big noise. Prosecute the pirates? Piffle! They are prominent people, and have money—also votes.

Often food is kept in cold storage until it is rotten, and then it is sent out for people to eat and spread disease. In their frantic efforts to boost prices eggs are held in storage until they rattle in their shells like dry bones, and apparently the longer they remain the higher is the price when they do break bounds.

We Americans have a queer way of doing things in the present day of enlightenment. If a poor devil steals a slab of bacon to feed his hungry family, we call him a thief and send him to jail. But when food pirates milk the public of millions by their criminal manipulation of the cold storage warehouses we envy them in their greatness and leave them to keep right on plundering. In other words, we curb the little thief and give the big one a free rein.

Some of the large cities of this country are rotten to their cores, and if the cores were required to stand alone they would collapse of their own decay. For it is in the cities that this wholesale piracy and plundering of the people finds its inception and protection. Some of the country districts may not be exactly sprouting wings, but the systematic robbery which is debauching the country does not flourish where every man knows his neighbor.

The public has reached the point where it is beginning to demand that congress take adequate measures to relieve the situation—and, failing this, it would be quite appropriate for it to resign and go home.

The lid has a disagreeable habit of blowing off when the pressure becomes too great.

WHERE LIES THE BLAME?

Relief from newsprint and job paper shortage—we were going to say extortion—is of far more importance to publishers and printers than any other political question.

It has also convinced the victims of the holdup that congressional commissions and political palaver amount to nothing as against organized greed and profiteering.

It has also proven to the most skeptical that so-called free trade or duty-free paper from Canada can be controlled by the middlemen.

A Portland (Oregon) card printing house states that the cost of 100 ordinary cards 2 by 3½ inches has gone up 50 cents within sixty days, and other stock in proportion.

If this is true the advance is outrageous and cannot be laid at the doors of the manufacturers, but is the work of paper-jobbing trusts that control distribution.

There is no doubt that newspaper and job offices are being held up outrageously by some of the firms that control the distribution of paper stock.

More paper mills, more production, relief from labor shortage, strikes and agitation against capital are policies to be advocated, but the middleman's robbery must be curbed.

The house journal of a big paper jobber says of the public: "They should accept the increased rates in a public-spirited way." Holy smoke, we should be thankful that the little pack of calling cards has not advanced a dollar!

EPWORTH LEAGUE HAS ENJOYABLE SOCIAL

The valentine social held at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last Saturday night by the young people of the Epworth League was a great success, judged either by the number who attended or the good time that all had. There was a large number present and the evening passed pleasantly for all. Games were played, valentines distributed through the medium of a postoffice and a basket lunch held, the baskets being brought by the girls and sold by auction to the young men. All agreed that it was one of the best social affairs the Epworth League has yet given.

TWO INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

Fred Morris of San Bruno and Harold Cox of San Francisco were injured early Sunday morning in a collision between a car in which they were riding and another machine that was standing by the side of the road near the Reichardt duck farm without lights. The two men were brought to the South San Francisco Hospital and were treated for bruises and lacerations. Cox was discharged next day, but Morris is still at the hospital. Morris is employed at the steel mill in this city.

Anger poisons the system. There should be a prohibition law against anger.

STEAMER BUILT HERE LOST WITH VALUABLE CARGO

Carrying a $2,000,000 cargo of California wines and liquors and manned by San Francisco officers and crew, the Shipping Board steamer West Aleta, which was reported ashore on the Dutch coast, has broken in two and is a total loss, according to advices received here this week. The crew was rescued by the Dutch coast guards at Terschelling island, North sea, where the West Aleta grounded. The vessel was commanded by Captain Charles Ewart and Eddie Mason Jr., son of Bar Pilot Eddie Mason, was her second officer.

The West Aleta, built a year ago at the Schaw-Batcher shipyard at South San Francisco, was the first vessel to be allocated by the Shipping Board to Williams, Dimond & Co. for operation on a direct Pacific Coast-European run.

INFLUENZA ALMOST GONE.

Health Officer Dr. J. C. McGovern stated to The Enterprise today that influenza has almost disappeared from South San Francisco, not one new case having been reported to him for a week. Two or three diphtheria cases in widely different parts of town are evidently in no way connected. The measles, which caused the closing of school, have practically disappeared.

At least once in every normal man's life there comes the time when he believes he is about to be made suddenly rich from oil.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

In the days before trade with the tropics introduced cane sugar into the temperate regions, honey was by far the most common sweet substance available for human food. In many localities it is still plentiful and cheap enough to allow of its liberal use in cooking, and better practices in bee-keeping are increasing the supply. As honey retains enough of the perfume of the flowers from which it comes to impart a distinct flavor to the dish it forms a part of, it is much prized by good cooks.

Cakes made with honey keep soft for months, as does honey icing. Honey is slightly acid and better results are obtained by using baking soda rather than baking powder in recipes which contain it. It may be substituted for sugar in any favorite recipe, replacing cup for cup. As a cup of honey contains, besides the equivalent of a cup of sugar, one-fourth cup of water, use that much less liquid than is called for in the original recipe.

Some excellent thoroughly tested honey recipes follow:

Honey Icing

- 1 cup granulated sugar.
- ¼ cup water.
- ¼ cup honey.
- 1 egg white.

Boil together the sugar and the water for a few moments and then add the honey, taking precautions to prevent the mixture from boiling over, as it is likely to do. Cook until drops of the syrup keep their form when poured into cold water, or to about 250 deg. F. Beat the white of the egg until stiff, and when the syrup has cooled slightly pour over the egg, beating the mixture continuously until it will hold its shape. This frosting is suitable for use between layers of cake, but is rather too soft for the top. It remains in good condition and soft enough to be spread for many weeks and, therefore, can be made in large quantities for use as needed. After eight months, such icing has been found to be in good condition and soft enough to cut.

Sauce for Ice Cream

- 2 tablespoons butter.
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch.
- ½ cup honey.

Cook together the cornstarch and butter thoroughly, being careful not to brown them. Add the honey and cook the mixture until it becomes hard when dropped into cold water and until all taste of raw cornstarch has been removed.

Round Steak on Biscuit

Cut round steak into pieces about one-half inch square. Cover with water and cook it at a temperature just below the boiling point until it is tender, or boil for five minutes, and while still hot put it into a fireless cooker and leave it for five hours. Thicken the gravy with flour mixed with water, allowing two level tablespoons to a cup of water. Pour the meat and gravy over split baking-powder biscuits so baked that they have a large amount of crust.

How to Cook Celeriac

Celeriac is known also as "knot celery" or "turnip-rooted celery." The roots, which are about the size of a white turnip, and not the stalks are eaten. They are more often used as a vegetable than as a salad. Prepare the celeriac by paring and then cutting it into thin, narrow slices or dice. Put into cold water. Drain from this water and drop into boiling water and boil thirty minutes. Drain and rinse with cold water. Make a white sauce with one tablespoon of butter, one tablespoon of flour, one-half teaspoon of salt, and one cup of milk. When smooth and well cooked add the celeriac.

Give almost anybody a chance to talk about himself for a little while without interruption and pretty soon he'll tell you how he is being imposed upon by his relatives or the boss or somebody else.

A friend in need always seems to find his friends in the same fix.

Resort Hats Do Their Turn

There is a continuous performance in the drama of millinery, and now the headliner is due to appear. Resort hats are about to enter and to take the center of the stage, eclipsing the gay company of dance and theater hats that preceded them. Never have they arrived in such force or such variety before—for at least half the world appears to be going a-touring, bearing with it the most beautiful millinery that money, spent recklessly, will buy. The genius of designers blossoms into its loveliest creations in these resort hats. They are made for people who are discriminating and appreciative, to whom price means little, but style and distinction everything, and they set the pace for spring—in several lines. For the term includes several classes of hats, with street and sports hats holding first place among them and fragile, short-lived but lovely dress hats flashing into and out of existence in a brief but glorious career. Some of these leave a trace in the styles that follow for spring and summer, while the street and sports hats just about decide this matter of styles.

In the group shown above, a sports hat, two dress hats and one that will serve for various occasions offer an alluring variety for the consideration of the younger tourists. Row on row of very narrow ribbon with a picot edge covers the sports hat at the top of the picture. Its broad brim, faced with a cross-bar pattern in crepe, assumes the responsibility of standing between the sun and the face of its wearer. Many hats, similar in shape, are made of organdy in light colors, and there is a fad for angora embroidery on these dainty affairs.

The large and picturesque hat at the left appears to be made of plaited faille silk with plain facing of georgette crepe. It can be imagined in any of the favorite colors, as orchid, pink, ecru, blue—making a background for the bouquet of small wild flowers tied with narrow ribbon that rests at the right side. Opposite it a wide-brimmed hat of net has a crown almost covered with roses posed flat against it and many rose petals partly cover the brim. The small hat at the bottom appears to be covered with crepe, although there are several fabrics at hand for the milliner that could be used as effectively. Its wreath of large silk pansies, without much attempt at being true to life, complete a very unusual and beautiful hat. Unusual and beautiful—these are the most desired of all things in resort hats. They give a zest to the parade which passes in unending variety along the paths that lead through sunny lands.

I'm Calling You

I am the best friend of mankind. To the man who prizes sanity, peacefulness, pure-mindedness, social standing and longevity, I am a necessity.

I am hung about with sweet memories—memories of brides—memories of mothers—memories of boys and girls—memories of the aged as they grope their way down the shadows.

I am decked with loving tears—crowned by happy hands and hearts.

In the minds of the greatest men of earth I find a constant dwelling place.

I live in the lives of the young and in the dreams of the old.

I safeguard man through all his paths—from the first hour life's sun slants upon his footprints until the purple gathers in the west and the darkness falls.

BIG GATHERING ATTENDS MOOSE BALL AND CARNIVAL

The local lodge of the Moose, which has staged many very successful dances and social affairs in this city, never held a more successful one than the big dance and "49ers" carnival last Saturday night. Fraternal Hall was crowded with the lodge members and their friends and an evening of gayety was spent. All who attended agreed long before the evening was over that the Moose certainly "know how" when it comes to holding a dance with plenty of novelty and "pep." The gaming table was a popular feature, the winners being paid in refreshment tickets. One of the features of the evening was the prize awarded to the oldest couple in the "pioneer quadrille." The prize of $10 was won by Mr. and Mrs. George Kiessling.

William Hein, his daughter Mrs. William Dayton, and Mrs. Dayton's little son, Gordon, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hein on Miller avenue. William Hein is a brother of A. Hein. Mrs. Dayton's husband, William Dayton, is ill with pneumonia at the South San Francisco Hospital. The visitors come from Pueblo, Colo.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF CANDIDACY

To the Voters of the City of South San Francisco—Ladies and Gentlemen: As the time of our general municipal election approaches, which election will be held Monday, April 12, 1920, I wish to announce myself as a candidate for the office of City Clerk and ex-officio Assessor of and for the city of South San Francisco, to succeed myself. This office I have held for eleven years past.

It is my belief that the voters of this city are entitled to a statement of facts concerning my qualifications for the office which I seek. With this in mind, I wish to recite the following facts:

In the year 1918 I was one of the successful candidates for the office of Justice of the Peace of the First Township, San Mateo county. During the campaign for the office I announced through the public press that, if I were elected Justice of the Peace, I would resign the office of City Clerk. Although I subsequently learned that I could legally and satisfactorily hold and perform the duties of both offices, this did not deter me from keeping my promise to resign, and on March 3, 1919, my books having been closed and ready for examination, I tendered my resignation to the Board of Trustees. This is a matter of public record and can be found in the minutes of meeting of March 3, 1919, on page 235, volume 3, of proceedings of the Board of Trustees of the city of South San Francisco. The resignation was not accepted and I was requested by the Board of Trustees to continue in office, as they intended to build a city hall and this would require a great amount of work for which experience in the City Clerk's office would be very essential.

I felt that this was, in a measure, an appreciation of my work of the past, and I consented to remain in the office. I subsequently felt very much pleased that I did remain, for during the year 1919 a great opportunity presented itself, that of making an effort to keep the tax rate as low as possible on account of the voters having, on June 10, 1919, assumed the burden of $129,000 of municipal bonds for the construction of a city hall and other improvements.

To meet this situation was the problem that confronted me. How to arrange the tax rate without it becoming too great a burden on the small householder was the question. I am happy to say that this was accomplished by securing an increase in valuation on property of the larger realty holdings to the extent of about one-half million dollars, which kept down the rate of taxation to an increase of only 10 cents over the previous year. I believe that this fact alone, if not my previous record of eleven years in office, would entitle me to your respectful consideration at the polls on April 12, 1920.

Hoping that I have made myself quite clear, I beg to remain,

Respectfully yours,
W. J. SMITH,
City Clerk, South San Francisco.

CLARK & WHITESIDE WILL HANDLE CHEVROLETS

Clark & Whiteside, whose headquarters are at 6732 Mission street, Daly City, are congratulating themselves on having secured the agency for Chevrolet cars for the northern portion of San Mateo county. The two members of the firm were in The Enterprise office recently, and spoke enthusiastically of the prospects for the Chevrolets in this territory. They declare that conditions are excellent in the automobile world and state that they are prepared to make immediate deliveries on all models of their car.

Mr. Whiteside is well known in the region around Burlingame and San Mateo, having made his home in the former city a number of years. Having determined to enter the automobile field, he looked the entire list of machines over carefully and selected the Chevrolet as offering the greatest values to the buying public. His associate, Mr. Clark, has long been connected with the Chevrolet people and is enthusiastic on the subject of the Chevrolet and its performances.

THE COLD BARRIER

Good health demands uniformity in temperature indoors. Extremes are bad for adults and worse for little tots.

Many a house is warm and comfy in spots but cold corners predominate. If YOUR house has any cold corners, why not eliminate them with a proper heating system?

THE RECTOR SYSTEM or THE HUMPHREY "RADIANTFIRE"

Either of these is well adapted to your use.

Her mother took her to the golf links at Varney Field and secured a fifteen-minute ride in an aeroplane for her. The girl and her pilot loosed the loop and did a lot of other thrilling stunts. Sylvia is very proud of her ride in the air.

Mr. and Mrs. Privatt, parents of Mrs. A. W. Grundy of Huntington Park and recently arrived from London, England, have decided to make their home in San Bruno and have rented the Weisgel cottage on Sylvan avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Privatt are delighted with California and expect to make their home in San Bruno.

Mrs. Sonnagar is recovering from an attack of influenza and will soon be out again.

Little Evelyn Brose is trying hard to get well enough to attend the P. T. A.'s entertainment Saturday evening, as she is one of the star performers for the kindergarten. Bronchitis has kept her home the past week.

LOCAL STUNT PREPARED FOR PROGRAM IN CITY

San Bruno is to be represented on the program given by the San Francisco Alliance of Epworth Leagues at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium next Friday evening. Each organization has been allotted twelve minutes in which to stage its "stunt." The nature of the numbers is a complete mystery except to a small committee in San Francisco arranging the performance. This much can be said concerning the local feature: Each character demands a unique and original costume and twelve characters are included. The following have been selected for the respective parts: The Misses Florence Reid, Bella Beaton, Claire Forster, Marjorie Smith, and Gladys Beckner; the men's parts are taken by J. Reynolds, H. Beckner, J. Foraker, Wilbert Dickson, Paul Forster, and William Paul.

The seating capacity of the auditorium is limited to 1500 and the local organization has only been able to secure a limited number of tickets. Reservations can not be secured later than Monday, February 23d.

Columbus could not have discovered America in these days, as the sailors would have held up the expedition for time and a half for overtime.

PARENTS-TEACHERS PLAN ENTERTAINMENT

The Parents-Teachers' Association held its monthly meeting in the Northbrae schoolhouse Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Callaghy acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Sonnagar, who was reported ill. A report was made by Mrs. J. J. Jones that they had not yet secured a driver to bring the children to and from Jersey Farm to school, but they hoped to secure one this week.

It was arranged to have notices sent to all parents in San Bruno informing them of the seriousness of keeping children from school for trivial causes and requesting that they send them as regularly as possible. Great preparations are being made for the entertainment to be given by the school children Saturday evening at California Hall in honor of Washington's birthday. The Parents-Teachers' Association is working hard to make this affair even a greater success than the last one, as the entire proceeds will go to furnish equipment for both playgrounds. All San Bruno school children will be presented with free passes for the entertainment. Refreshments of coffee, cake and punch will be served. Dickson's orchestra will furnish the music for dancing.

CAUSES HUSBAND'S ARREST.

Charging a statutory offense against his 15-year-old niece, Mrs. Julius Garner caused the arrest of her husband at San Bruno Saturday night. Garner, who is an Oakland man, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Ray Griffin of Redwood City.

ZIPS HOLD PARTY VALENTINE'S EVE

The Zips of the Epworth League gave a valentine party last Friday evening in the church parlors, which were beautifully decorated for the occasion with red hearts and lights to correspond. A short program was rendered, as follows: Recitation, "Laska," Jack Foraker; piano and mandolin selection, Misses Jeanne and Jessie Beaton; recitation, "The New Shoe," Miss Vella Ledwith; song, "Dear Old Pal of Mine," G. E. Richards. A feature of the evening was given by Mrs. William Holliday, who stated she had a story to tell, and in the telling of it kept her audience in roars of laughter from beginning to end. She served up some excellent home-made jokes on local characters, all of which were much enjoyed by her hearers. Games were played and refreshments of lemonade, sandwiches, and heart-shaped cookies were served.

THIEVES STEAL CUSHIONS.

Thieves removed the cushions from cars belonging to Dr. F. H. Smith and F. E. Russell which were parked outside the M. E. church Friday evening during the social given by the Zips.

SCHOOLGIRL IS INJURED.

Little Alvine Schmidt, daughter of Chris Schmidt, in coming home from school Monday afternoon tripped over a large log, fell and cut a gash in her cheek. The cut extended from her ear to her mouth, and Dr. Bohm was called in to attend the injured girl.

IRISH LOAN CAMPAIGN STARTS IN SO. S. F.

By J. C. McGovern.

Organizations of local committees of the American Commission on Irish Independence were formed Thursday evening at Fraternal Hall, with the writer as chairman of the district. The quota to be raised in California is $1,500,000, and the committee will ask that every lover of liberty, whether of Irish extraction or not, help in this great cause.

Ireland is one of the most ancient nations of Europe, and she has preserved her national integrity through seven centuries of foreign oppression. Nationally the race, the language, the customs and traditions of Ireland are wholly distinct from the English. She has never relinquished her national rights, and through the long era of English usurpation she has in every way and at all times proclaimed her inalienable right of nationhood. Ireland is the gateway to the Atlantic; the point where the great trade route between east and west converges. Her great harbors must be open to all nations, instead of being the monopoly of England. Today these harbors are empty and idle, solely because of England's determination to retain Ireland as a barren bulwark for her own selfishness. Ireland today reasserts her historic nationhood, the more confidently before the new world, emerging from the war, because she believes in freedom and justice as the fundamental principles of international law; because she believes in a frank co-operation between the peoples for equal rights against the vested privileges of ancient tyrannies; because the permanent peace of Europe can never be secured by perpetuating military dominion for the profit of empire, but only by establishing the control of government in every land upon the basis of a free will of a free people, and the existing state of war between Ireland and England can never be ended until Ireland is definitely evacuated by the armed forces of England.

The republic of Ireland is now ready to take its place among the nations of the world. It must go through the same hard, bitter opposition that has met all republics in the early days of their existence. It must, like them, call on the friends of liberty for moral and material aid. There are 15,000,000 people of Irish descent in America, and 40,000,000 other descendants of peoples who know what liberty means to the struggling men, women, and children of a parent nation. Then, too, there are millions of descendants of first American families, the bedrock Americans, who by their blood and treasure made possible this republic. To all these Americans we appeal for justice and fairness and help for Ireland, the newest of the republics, whose people with unbroken spirit and indomitable courage have for centuries carried on their fight for liberty.

GRIST OF THE COURT OF JUSTICE W. J. SMITH

Natalie Bonaciet has brought suit against Clifton L. Alard for $200 for alleged damage to house owned by Bonaciet and in possession of Alard. Time for hearing not yet set.

Suit was brought by the Western Sand and Gravel Company against W. J. Martinelli for $136.90 for material alleged delivered to defendant. The case was settled out of court.

William Smith of this city tried for cruelty to animals on complaint of State Humane Officer M. Hennessy. Pleaded guilty to charge, which specified that a horse was being worked while lame and with a sore neck. Evidence showed it was more the fault of an employee, and Judge Smith let the defendant off with a reprimand.

Charles Linde of Visitacion Valley had George Washington arrested for battery. George Washington in turn swore to a complaint against Charles Linde on a similar charge. Both were fined $25 on pleading guilty. Linde has been in Judge Smith's court before and was warned this time that a reappearance there would be followed by a jail sentence. The fracas between Linde and Washington began as a dispute between neighbors.

Manuel Tellepler will have to explain why he used his fists on Pablo Zubia. Zubia was a boarder at the Tellepler home, and in a dispute over the settlement of a board bill there was $1.80 difference between the amounts the two men considered due. Zubia alleges Tellepler tried to "take it out of his hide."

Friday, February 13th, Edward R. Stoner was arraigned on a complaint sworn to by E. A. Kelton, a detective
